Glades Correctional inmate escapes work detail on SR 80

BELLE GLADE—Two unrelated escapes at Glades Correctional Institution have police hunting for one inmate who still remains at large.

Police are searching for Lundy Perkins, 24, serving a seven year sentence for armed robbery. Perkins, who was with a work crew along SR 80 near the Florida Sugar Corp. on Monday, October 7, escaped when he jumped into a construction worker's car, heading west toward Belle Glade, then changing course by cutting through cane fields roads.

The construction worker chased Perkins with a pickup truck, but found his car abandoned just east of Hatton Highway.

Perkins is suspected to have run into cane fields. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall, approximately 160 pounds, slim to medium build, with a ruddy complexion with brown eyes and hair.

Perkins has a tattoo on each arm. On the right arm he has a tiger and on the upper left arm a hatchet.

Later on Monday evening, approximately 6:35 p.m., a second escape took place.

GCI Superintendent Randall Music said five inmates used side-cutters to cut through the fence which surrounds GCI's recreation field.

Three of the inmates were found in the canal next to the institution. The fourth inmate was found in a cane field by the West Technical Education Center near SR 80, and GCI officers spotted the fifth inmate hitchhiking near Mae's Bait and Tackle in Canal Point.

The five inmates found by police were Samuel Selig, serving a 55 year term for false imprisonment and sexual battery; Antonio Padilla, serving a 45 year sentence for armed robbery; Joseph Larocca, serving a life sentence for first degree murder; and Charles Cassell, serving a 13 year term for burglary and grand theft; and Jerome Cassell, serving 36 years for grand theft and burglary.

Music said that blood hounds and the K-9 was used from the Sheriff's Office to track the inmates.

"We've had good participation from the local law," Music said. "We really appreciate it."

Music also said the escape may add a maximum of 15 years to each prisoners sentence.

Chamber to hold banquet

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce banquet will be next Thursday evening, October 17, starting at 8 p.m. at the Belle Glade Country Club.

County, having received many awards for his work in the area.

He was the 1984 recipient of the West Palm Beach Jaycees "Outstanding Citizen" award.

He holds offices in national and state education groups and received his education in Palm Beach Schools.

He attended Palm Beach Junior College; received his B.S. Degree from Florida State University and his Master of Education degree from the University of Florida. He holds a Ph. D. from Florida State University.

Dr. Eisey is a director of a local bank and a federal savings and Loan. He is on the national Board of Directors of St. Jude's Hospital and is First Vice President of the Executive Committee in Memphis, Tenn.

He is the recipient of the Humanitarian Award from the City of Hope Hospital, the Northern Palm Beach County Chamber of Commerce Community Appreciation Award and the B'Nai B'rith International recipient of Great American Traditions award.

The Emcee of the evening will be Robert C. (Bob) Lee. He will be entertaining the audience with his humor and give the introduction of Dr. Eisey.

New Chamber directors and officers will be installed at the banquet. Bill Bailey will serve as the Installation Officer.

The climax of the evening will be the presentation of awards to the Citizen of the Year, Agri-Industrial, Policeman and the Fireman of the year.

Two freed in marriage scam

BELLE GLADE—Two people arrested in connection with the "Operation Matrimony" marriage scam last June, were acquitted by a 12 member jury last week.

Rev. Clifford Davis, pastor of the Wesleyan Community Holiness Church in Belle Glade, was cleared of charges of arranging marriages between Haitians and Americans for money.

Testifying against Davis were four women who said that the 60 year old pastor had given them money in order to wed Haitians.

Davis said he felt the women were bribed to say certain things against him, but he also assured the courtroom that he had no hard feelings toward the women.

The nine women, three men West Palm Beach jury, returned a verdict of not guilty after just three short hours of deliberation.

Davis' lawyer, Defense Attorney Richard Lubin, claimed the testimony of the four women was weak and that Rev. Davis' character was a major factor in his acquittal.

In closing arguments, Lubin told the jury that the women were fearful of being charged with crimes if they refused to testify. He said that if the women didn't satisfy the government, they knew they could be charged with crimes.

The Rev. Davis, who was born in Jamaica but is now a U.S. citizen, told the courtroom that he did perform marriage ceremonies for several of the women who testified against him, but denied that he was behind a scheme to assist Haitians in getting their visas.

Davis did admit, however, that he married a Belle Glade woman, Linda Joyce Burroughs, and a Haitian, Solange Theramen.

After the marriage, the two applied for permanent U.S. citizen status for Theramen.

Theramen was also acquitted by the West Palm Beach jury last week.

He was cleared of two counts charging that he was part of the "Operation Matrimony" scam, and that he married an American woman solely to obtain a green card.

Social worker saves woman's life

BELLE GLADE—Surrounded by a crowd of people, watching smoke coming out of a second story apartment building, Jimmie Lee Anderson was the only person in the crowd to act. He ran up the stairs to the smoke-filled room, seized a burning mattress, the culprit of the flames, and threw it down the stairs outside the room, therefor saving a woman's life.

Anderson, 37, a senior social worker aide, said he was walking down SW 5th Street talking with a few friends when the incident occurred.

"A man yelled that there was smoke coming out of the window. I saw it and ran upstairs," Anderson recounted. "The door was already open, apparently to let some of the smoke out. I rushed in the back room (kitchen) and saw a mattress on fire."

Anderson said a woman was in the apartment, but she was too panic-stricken to do anything.

"She kept asking me what caused the fire," he said. "She said she had tried to call her husband, but couldn't reach him. I told her to call the fire department."

Then, Anderson, handicapped from birth, threw water on the blaze, grabbed an edge of the burning mattress and threw it downstairs, out of the apartment.

He then tried to douse the small flames which had sprung up nearby the mattress.

By the time Anderson had finished, the fire department had arrived.

Throughout the ordeal, Anderson said he was aware of what he was doing, not as some cases where the adrenaline starts pumping, and sheer energy takes over.

"People didn't get involved, they were standing around like they were looking at a carnival," said Jimmie Lee Anderson.

"Although the entire thing lasted maybe 10 minutes, I was very conscious of what I was doing," said Anderson.

Those ten minutes Anderson spent in the smoke filled room, landed him in Glades General Hospital with smoke inhalation.

Belle Glade Patrolman Shane Cioffi was one of the first policemen on the scene.

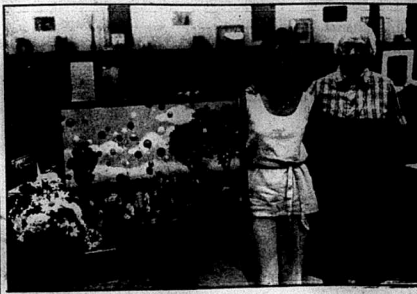

"The fire started under a bed. The woman in the apartment was sick, but had tried to put the fire out by throwing water on the mattress," said Cioffi. "He (Anderson) had dragged everything out by the time we got

Refinishing class slated

A furniture refinishing and repair class will be taught at West Tech beginning on November 4. The instructor is Dale Allen of Pahokee. Mr. Allen is well known in the Glades for his furniture refinishing skills. Students will learn how to clean and strip furniture and prepare for refinishing. They also will learn basic skills needed to repair minor damage or replace small parts missing from quality furniture. Interested persons should call West Tech at 996-4930 for registration information.

Hazardous waste pick up date slated

BELLE GLADE residents will have an opportunity to safely dispose of hazardous materials they might have around their homes the days of October 16 through 19. Most people believe the threat of pollution comes from a giant industrial dragon breathing smoke and fire and belching poisons, according to a release from the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation. In fact, they say chances are you have everyday products, like used motor oil, paints, and bug killers, that can also pollute. If you pour them down the drain, bury them, or throw them in the garbage, these hazardous materials can end up in your drinking water.

Residents are urged to bring banned or unwanted garden pesticides, herbicides or weed killers, fungicides, old paint and paint thinners and removers, solvents, wood preservatives and strippers, used motor oil, brake fluid and antifreeze and pool chemicals and muriatic acid to the Palm Beach County Health Department.

The hours of operation will be from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The Health Department is located at 2990 North Main Street, Belle Glade.

NOT FOR EVERYONE

For those travelers who truly want to get away from it all, Belize offers isolation and natural beauty. Formerly known as British Honduras, this string of unspoiled keys is tucked between Mexican Yucatan on the north of Guatemala on the west and south. Belize may lack typical resort nightlife, but it is a haven for divers and naturalists. Many of the inns are devoted to serious diving and instruction. Many Yucatan vacationers top off their trip in Belize exploring the interior, seeking its restored Mayan sites. It should be noted that mainland roads are rough and accommodations are primitive and sparse. Travel should be limited to the adventurous. Belize is not for everyone. It is truly for those who seek primitivism and seclusion. If you're looking for a trip that's out of the ordinary, come in and talk to us. GLADES TRAVEL SERVICE can suggest many unique vacations for you, to suit your budget and the time you have available. No charge. Ticketing on commission. Conveniently located at 141 So. Main St., Suite 101. Hrs: M-F, 9-5. Phone 996-4136. Member: Travelers Assoc., AATA, and PATA. HINT: For some reason, and in keeping with its ultra laid-back style, flights to Belize from Miami are often delayed.

Bienaventurados los Medicos

By RAIMUNDO DE CASTRO

No sabemos que suerta hayan corrido — con la maldita revolucion — last escuelas gemelas de El Asilo, situadas, una frente a la otra, en lo alto de la calle Santa Cruz en nuestro natal Cienfuegos. Ambas escuelas fueron organizadas, al amparo de un decreto del general Leonard E. Wood, por cuatro mentores cubanos ilustres: un expositor de filosofía, Enrique José Varona; un profesor de finas letras, Esteban Borrero; un sabio naturalista, Carlos de la Torre; y un notable pedagogo, Alfredo M. Aguayo.

Las escuelas de El Asilo eran publicas, de enseñanza elemental y superior; de hembras y de varones; y de una doble sesión.

II

En la primera de esas escuelas, en la tarde de un viernes, día y momento reservados al recuerdo de las efemérides patrias, cimos la frase que sirve de título a nuestra crónica: "Bienaventurados los Medicos". Una maestra del quinto grado, la señorita Nieves Canal, ocupó esta tarde la tribuna para decir una breve y sentida "Oración por los Muertos en 1918".

Pero los muertos a los cuales se refería la Oración, no eran, con todo y su merecimiento, los soldados muertos en la ofensiva que puso término a la Primera Guerra Mundial; sino a los muertos que hubo en Cienfuegos, cuando la población de la Perla del Sur fue diezmada por una epidemia con el nombre italiano de influenza. La señorita Nieves, que así, de señorita, trataban a sus maestras los ingenios escolares de nuestra generación, dijo y relató esa frase — "Bienaventurados los Medicos" — tantas veces como fue necesario para citar, por sus nombres y apellidos, a los medicos — Altuna, Leal, Méndez, Meruelos, Villalvilla y Figueroa — que afrontaron la enfermedad, y permanecieron con ejemplar denuedo y devoción — en clínicas y hospitales; gabinetes de consultas y casas de socorro.

En un lapso de media hora — lo bueno breve es dos veces bueno, decía Gracian — la señorita Nieves, sin asomo de exageración, describió el dantesco cuadro de muerte y desolación que ofrecía la ciudad de Cienfuegos, bajo el asoco de una enfermedad en extraño conjonctura, que tenía un término de infección de tres días; y un curso letal de apenas treinta seis horas.

La influencia luego se supo — se debía a un virus filtrable; a una bacteria o germen rodando, a un microbio de cuerpo tan reducidito, 0.2 micron, que no era visible al campo de observación de la mayor parte de los microscopios de entonces.

El síndrome de la influenza era espantoso; sus síntomas se presentaban así: convulsiones, agudos dolores en los huesos largos, vómitos de sangre; y fiebre alta, tan alta que producía delirios y alucinaciones, en medio delas cuales el paciente dejaba de existir.

Luego tambien se supo que el virus de la influenza no era tan fragil como los medicos que producen otras enfermedades contragiasse como el tifo, la fiebre amarilla, la difteria y la rabia.

Por el contrario; el virus de esta terrible dolencia era resistente; y podía ser transportado por el aire y contaminar a todos los países del orbe, beligerantes o no.

Pero comohoy sucede con el síndrome del Sida, los laboratorios en todo el mundo se afanaron por hallar un remedio en forma de vacuna y de suero.

Milagrosamente un laboratorio en los Estados, en el propio curso del año de 1918, logro producir un suero y una vacuna con los cuales se inmunizaron los sanos y curaron los enfermos.

III.

No era usual los años del veinte, que un periodista y hombre de letras, como el doctor Guillermo Martínez Marquese, se ocupara de establecer un Premio, encaminado, precisamente, a establecer un vínculo de relaciones mas estrechas y permanentes entre medicos, pacientes, periodistas y maestros. Las relaciones existian ya; mas no, en el grado que existen hoy gracias a la existencia del Premio Guillermo Martínez Marquese, que, cada cinco años, nos nobles objetivos este de mantener bien informado al exilio de cuantas investigaciones realizan los medicos hispanoamericanos que residen en los Estados Unidos.

Falla de nuestra memoria es no saber si la "Oración por los Muertos en 1918" que recogida taquígraficamente y reproducida enteramente en dos de los periodicos locales de Cienfuegos: "La Correspondencia" y "El Comercio". Sea como fuere, puede servir de consuelo saber que un periodista "científugero", ya desaparecido, Leandro Garcia, hizo un vez un aparte, en su columna dedicada al cine, "Luces y Sombras", para recordar...

La Oración de la Señorita Nieves, quen, en aquel historico viernes, ofreció, a los que han enjorjado y ejercen la noble riesgoa profesión de la medicina las beatitudes del Sermón de Montaña.

Finalmente debemos decir que aquellos que hayan padecido de cancer, y hayan salvado la vida por la oportuna y radical intervención de cirujano eminente — en nuestro caso el doctor J. J. Zavertnik — tendran de sobra razones para decir como la señorita Nieves: "Bienaventurados los Medicos".

Nota del Redactor: En recuerdo de Nieves Canal y de sus brillantes colegas en las aulas de El Asilo en Cienfuegos.

BUGGY SCIENCE

Mr. Sivik, a ten year science teacher, is currently instructing his environmental science classes in the undertaking of a very "pesty" project.

Mr. Sivik's students are getting acquainted with pests that are destroying one-third of all food grown and stored in South Florida. Students will identify the class phylum, order and common name of the insects they collect. This project is aimed at helping students to gain knowledge of the insects that are a part of all our lives.

CLOWNING AROUND

Mrs. Sarah Bennett's drama classes are currently undertaking a unit in clowning. Mrs. Bennett's first and seventh hour classes are working on more of a pantomime aspect of clowning rather than traditional circus clowning.

Students will eventually work up their individual acts into a circus show. Julius Bauman, fellow teacher at Glades Central who was once a professional clown, has given a make-up demonstration and performed his clown act for the class.

SADD ELECTS OFFICERS

Students against drunk driving, a club sponsored by social studies teacher Desmond Mahon, has elected its officers for the 1985-86 school term and the results are as follows: President, Tonya Allen; Vice President, Veronica Johnson; Secretary, Tommy Perryman; and Treasurer, Katrina Humphries.

Future meetings will be held October 2 and 24th. On October 24th, students will be transported to the Lake Worth Palm Beach College campus for a meeting featuring Dr. Ed Essey, President of Palm Beach Junior College, who will speak to the S.A.A.D. members.

GET WELL SOON

Recently in a football game against Jupiter High School, Glades Central lost not only a running back, but a great all-around athlete as a result of a broken ankle.

Johnny will not play again this year, but he will follow the team closely in the pursuit of the State 3-A title in football.

THE SOUND OF SUCCESS

The Glades Central Choir will have a new sound this year due to the musical genius of Mr. Mildon, the new choir director.

Mr. Mildon, who has just joined the Raider family from Rosarian Academy, will feature the beginning chorus and the advanced chorus together in future concerts.

Mr. Mildon states, "To me there isn't such a thing as advanced and beginning chorus, just advanced and beginning singing voices." Mr. Mildon has an interesting background in opera and orchestra, having played roles in Broadway musicals and having directed several college choirs and orchestras.

Glades Day students may feel a little anxious this week as the first report cards of the 1985-86 school year will be arriving at their homes.

Some will probably be received with pleasure, others with a little disappointment, but whatever reaction, the students can rest in the fact that we have a whole new six weeks to try again.

Three big Gator cheers for the girls' volleyball team. They defeated Christian Day School Monday night and showed the Crusaders that Gator power is where it's at. Congratulations gals, you make that green, white, and gold really shine!

A number of students have been out of class this week in order to take class officers and Mr. and Miss pictures. We're really proud of these students.

The Mr. and Miss for each of the classes are Jorge Suarez and Krista Browder, Mr. and Miss Senior; Johnny Tellechea and Becky Teets, Mr. and Miss Junior; Lee Lohmann and Ashley Perry, Mr. and Miss Sophomore; Ricky Pujales and Jennifer Alvarez, Mr. and Miss Freshman; Doug Carter and Alexia Sears, Mr. and Miss Eighth Grade; and Kevin Mann and nine days!

The club is raising money to help pay for the tip by having bake sales at break-time and hope to have some fund raisers later in the fall. Good luck Ms. Thiebaud!

The Crusader Bike-A-Thon was a success. They raised $10,000.00. This money will pay for the choir trip during which they will travel to Black Mountain, North Carolina. There will be a maximum of 40 persons going on the trip. Let's keep them in our prayers.

The C.D.S. Drama Club had a car wash Saturday which was a fun event. The car wash raised $217.00, and we would like to thank everyone who came for supporting us.

This club plans to put on a Christmas play, but the details are not known to this date. It is under the instruction of Ms. Thiebaud; she is also the sponsor for N.H.S. and European Express, so lets give a big hand to Ms. Thiebaud. This is the news at C.D.S. so look out for the Knightly News again next week. Until then, this is Lori Baker, Jesus Mesquita, Micah Corbin, and David Chamblee reporting from Christian Day School.

Blue Devils not motivated fall to Bishop Verot Vikings 16-8

By ERIC KOPP
PAHOKEE—Pahokee Blue Devil head coach Don Thompson said his team just never got motivated, and because of two penalties, fell to the Bishop Verot Vikings 16-8, for their first district loss of the season.

He said the Blue Devils scored two touchdowns which were called back because of penalties. The Blue Devils rushed for 290 yards, 109 of which were gained by fullback Tyrone Hickman, and passed for another 134 yards.

TYRONE HICKMAN
for us," Thompson said.

After grading the films the coaches handed out their game awards to deserving Blue Devils. Most Valuable Player award went to Tyrone Hickman; most valuable offensive lineman was Tyrone Campbell; most valuable defensive back went to Walter Britt, who also won the defensive back award.

The defensive lineman and unsung hero award went to linebacker Pell Thompson, who was credited with 11 solo tackles in his return to action from an ankle injury.

said the head coach.

Thompson said the Blue Devils will have their hands full because Jupiter is deep, big, and strong. He said the visiting team will run a wishbone offense, and he expects them to run off tackle quite a bit.

"As a whole we're not that much faster than they are, but we do have a couple of burners and we're going to try and get them the ball," he said.

Crusaders win number four, defeat St. Edwards Pirates 42-20

There's just no stopping the Christian Day Crusader varsity football team. The Crusaders have just celebrated their fourth victory in a row against the St. Edwards Pirates, last Friday night, Oct. 4.

Although St. Edwards was chosen by experts to be the winning favorite by 21 points, the Crusaders made the experts eat their words as they defeated the Pirates 42-20.

Head Coach Joe Ray said this was the overall best game the CDS team has played all year, even though St. Edwards was the toughest team they had come across this season.

"St. Edwards was a very coached team," said Ray. "They were tough, and physically bigger than we were."

Ray felt the defense played an outstanding game. "We were under pressure, but we had prepared well," he said. "We knew exactly what they were running."

Clark, Rumph, Pozo, Stahlsmith named Christian Day School players of the week

TIM CLARK

Tim Clark, a senior at Christian Day School, and a tight end/defensive end on the varsity football squad shares the spotlight for player of the week.

Clark is being recognized for his action against the St. Edwards Pirates last Friday night. He set up the first score on a 43-yard fumble recovery for a touchdown. He caught a 20-yard pass for a TD and three other key pass receptions.

"He played outstandingly well in defense because of this aggressive play," said CDS Head Coach Joe Ray.

RODNEY RUMPH

A sophomore at CDS, co-player of the week Rodney Rumph holds the position of safety, half back and wide receiver on the Crusader team. Rumph carried passes for 116 yards in the game against St. Edwards, made 2 touchdowns and ran 90 yards with a kickoff return for a TD. He also threw a 20 yard TD pass and intercepted a pass.

"He's been one of the sparks in our offense all year," said Coach Ray. "He plays many different positions."

JOSE POZO

Sophomore Jose Pozo is one of the unsung heroes this week at CDS. Pozo is a free safety on the varsity football team.

This week against St. Edwards, Pozo intercepted a pass, made a fumble recovery, and blocked two other passes.

CHRIS STAHLSMITH

Co-unsung hero of the week, Chris Stahlsmith, a senior, is a center for the CDS Crusaders.

According to Coach Ray, he's done an excellent job in blocking and listening to the snap count.

"We were worried about him at the beginning of the year, but Chris has been a very nice surprise as a center," said Ray. "He's responded very well in the past four games. He's really worked hard this year and has done an excellent job."

Raiders defeat Suncoast 10-6 despite 105 yards in penalties

RIVIERA BEACH—Despite sloppy play reflected in penalties, turnovers and mistakes, Glades Central outbattled Suncoast 10-6 in a key District 7-3A matchup Friday night.

The win, despite 105 yards in penalties, an ineffective offense that only managed six first downs and lost three fumbles, plus a two to one deficit in time of possession, leaves the Raiders still undefeated, 3-0 and 1-0 in the district.

Suncoast fared little better. They got three of their nine first downs on their first possession and could manage only 34 yards rushing. Central got all the points they needed in the second quarter. Senior tailback Darrell Sanders, moved into the backfield from wide receiver after Johnny Ivory broke his leg last week, swept around the right side for a five yard score. The extra point made it 7-0 midway through the period.

The Raiders got the ball right back after Suncoast quarterback Erick Williams was intercepted by linebacker Gary Burke at the Charger 43. Burke took the ball to the Suncoast 22 and the Raiders were in business.

Although Central could not move the ball, Mike Smith booted a 32 yard field goal for what turned out to be the winning points.

Suncoast got an interception from linebacker Honda Bussey at the Raider 18 midway through the fourth quarter. Four plays later, Williams scored on a 1 yard sneak

Fishing the 'Big O' with Tennessee

Well, 'ole Mother Nature' has again graced Lake Okeechobee! For the first time you can actually tell that the lake is rising.

Even Dead River is passable again and the corn fields are looking better every day. Sunday was a Slim's as usual, the cookout Point Tournament and it looked like just about everyone found fish somewhere.

David Sullivan and Steve McKinley won first place by bringing home 34 pounds, five ounces. The two largest ones Gary and Diane brought in a double limit this week.

The only difference being they usually fish for small mouth bass in the lakes at home. And while Lake Okeechobee seems big to us, it's bigger than fishing in Pelican Bay and using the newest "fish slayer," Tequila Sunrise worms.

Since last Thursday, I've had the time of my life fishing with some of my childhood buddies from Tennessee, along with my younger brother, Mark.

These guys caught all the fish they took time to catch and I mean the hours between daylight and dark.

Buddy, Earl, Harold and Mark grew up fishing just like I did. The only difference being they usually fish for small mouth bass in the lakes at home.

Shinner fishing is just around the corner, so don't be caught short. Get your red reels ready ahead of time so you can spend more time on the lake.

Until next week, safe boating and good luck to us, it's bigger than

Three police officers injured while arresting intoxicated pedestrian SOUTH BAY—Three police officers were injured after dealing with an intoxicated subject on Friday, September 28.

According to police report, when responding to an emergency call about a fight in progress at NW 9th Ave., Corporal Mike Stahl saw Dennis Eugene Johnson walking along the street, wearing a torn shirt and sporting minor scratches on his chest, as if previously being involved in a fight. Johnson also had a history of resisting arrest and assault on law enforcement officers. Johnson, who was highly intoxicated, swung at Stahl stating he was going to 'kill someone'.

After Stahl advised Johnson that he was under arrest, Johnson struck Stahl on the left shoulder. While he was still swinging his fists and shouting, Stahl sprayed him in the face with mace.

As the officer was trying to handcuff his subject, Johnson struck him in the right leg above the kneecap. Even after physical ly placing Johnson into the police unit to transfer him to the police department, he continued kicking the door of the car.

While being processed at the police department, Johnson injured

South Bay Sgt. Al Groes in the knee.

Due to Johnson's highly irrational, combative behavior, Sheriff's Office Deputy Battle's police unit was used to transport Johnson to the County Jail. However, Johnson became combative once more before entering the vehicle and Battle sustained injury to his right index finger.

Johnson is being held on a $1000 bond.

Skunks have highest incidence as carriers of rabies virus

PAHOKEE—Skunks are the worst rabies culprits, in order of incidence of the disease, of all the exotic animals known to carry rabies.

They are easily recognized by their black fur with contrasting white stripes, and cat-like size.

On the average skunks are 20-30 inches in length and weigh between three and ten pounds as adults.

Their litter size ranges from 2-16 in four to six being average. Females usually have their litters in April, May, or June.

Their life expectancy is less than two years.

A member of the weasel family, they like to be left alone. If undisturbed, they will go on their way without causing any trouble.

When threatened, the skunk will release an obnoxious scent through two tiny glands located at the base of the tail.

Because the skunk odor is its defense, it is only natural that it be strong and hard to get rid of.

The odor can be reduced, but it is next to impossible to remove completely.

If you are skunked, use lemon juice and vinegar. It must be applied liberally and thoroughly rubbed on the skin or material to be cleaned.

Although skunks may be seen at any time of day, they become most active toward evening and after dark.

Their homes are dens of other animals. Several females may inhabit the same den, but males tend to be solitary.

While baby skunks are cute, playful, and easily housebroken, they are not recommended for pet adults they become less playful, moody, and often snappish.

They will sleep all day and become very active at night.

PET TALK

By P.J. Fertitta

They are excellent diggers and will search under carpets, tiles, and other loose objects for edibles.

Skunks also can be carriers of rabies while not showing any symptoms.

The rabies organisms can easily be transmitted from mother to baby so even very young skunks can be suspect.

Because the incubation period in a skunk is undetermined, if it bites scratches your pet, the animal must be sacrificed.

The nicest thing you can do for this woodland creature is to leave it in the wild.

However, if you insist on owning a skunk, you must first obtain a permit from the Florida Freshwater Fish and Game Commission.

There are certain guidelines and cage restrictions that must be followed if you want to keep any wildlife as a pet.

Don't forget to have your dog, and especially your cat, vaccinated against rabies yearly as they are very likely to come across a skunk, even in your own back yard.

BARB MIEDEMA

Ham Brunch Casserole

Barb Miedema is the media coordinator for Glades Newspapers, Inc. Barb says this is originally her mother's recipe. She has served this dish at many brunches and it has always been a success. Barb hints that the dish can be made ahead of time. "I always make this dish the night before the brunch so I can enjoy entertaining," she said.

Ingredients

16 slices white bread-decrusted
16 slices of ham cut thin
1 lb. cheddar cheese grated
16 slices swiss cheese
6 eggs beaten

3 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
3 cups crushed corn flakes
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

In a 9X13 pan, layer bread, ham, cheese. Repeat for the second layer. Beat eggs, add milk, salt and mustard. Pour over mixture and let stand overnight.

Before baking, sprinkle corn flakes and butter on top. Bake for 40 minutes at 375 degrees (preheat oven). Serves 12 or so.

Usually, I serve this with coffee cake and a fresh fruit salad.

Great Pumpkin Cookies (for hungry ghosts and gobins)

It's just the treat for hungry Halloween denizens. Both the pumpkin cookie dough and the baked, cooled cookies freeze well, so they can be made ahead of time, freeing up the head ghost to enjoy the party with the demons of the night. Pre-decorate them or, as a new tradition, wage a friendly supernatural decorating contest.

Ingredients

2 cups flour
1 cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup of butter or margarine, softened
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar

1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 can (16 oz.) solid pack pumpkin
1 cup raisins
Assorted icings or peanut butter
Assorted candies, raisins or nuts

Bake 20-25 minutes, until cookies are firm and lightly browned.

Remove from cookie sheet; cool on racks. Decorate using icing or peanut butter to affix assorted candies, raisins or nuts.

Yields 19-20 cookies.

VARIATION: Substitute 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels for raisins.

NOTE: Dough may be frozen in an airtight container. Thaw in refrigerator; bake as directed.

Halloween tips for 'Trick or Treating'

The Celts who lived in Scotland, Ireland and Wales about 2000 years ago celebrated November 1 as the first day of winter and the beginning of a new year. Many of our Halloween traditions and customs can be traced back to these ancient people.

Halloween is celebrated throughout much of the world today. In Ireland the night is spent telling stories, feasting and telling fortunes. Mediterranean countries and some South American countries view the night before All Hallows Day quite seriously, remembering the dead, caring for the cemeteries, and wearing black for all the souls and saints. (During the Middle Ages Pope Gregory moved the Christian church's observance of All Hallows or Saints Day to November 1. The pagan revelries were contained and celebrated the night before, thus the name All Hallows E'en. In the Middle East countries October 31 is a night for parading and partying even though it is not called Halloween. In Syria men and boys roost about the town and visit friends begging for cakes and holiday drinks or "treats."

Although Halloween is traditionally fun it is a time when accidents may happen. A few tips are given which should make the celebration a safer one.

Select the costume carefully. If it is purchased, be sure it is made of flame-retardant materials. Be sure children can walk in their costumes without tripping. They should wear well-fitting shoes — mother's old high heels could cause them to trip. Be sure clothing is light in color and easily seen. Use reflective tape. If a mask is used, be sure there are large eye-holes for visibility and mouth and nose holes for ventilation. Wear the mask on top of the head when walking, pull it down when reaching the location. Makeup is preferable to a mask. Use makeup containing ingredients labeled "Made with US approved color additives," "Laboratory tested," "Meets federal standards for cosmetics," or "Non-toxic."

When trick 'n treating, go to familiar neighborhoods. Stop only at lighted houses or apartments. Do not enter homes unless accompanied by an adult. Be sure small children are supervised. Give coins and instructions to children so they may call if there is a problem. Walk on the sidewalk if there is one, or on the left side of the road facing traffic. Walk, do not run, from house to house.

Prepare your home for trick 'n treaters. Keep dogs and other pets away from the door so they will not frighten the children or be frightened. Pick up objects in the yard and near entrances. Use flashlights in jack-o-lanterns instead of candles.

Plan school and community activities. Have a neighborhood costume party and then a progressive party (One that moves from house to house). Set up a haunted house party or plan storytelling time at the library. Plan a Halloween hayride. Always plan some type entertainment to go with a hayride or parade. Visit shut-ins or the elderly. Present a skit for them.
